

Department of the Air Force

Certificate of Professional Development in Financial Management has successfully fulfilled the guidelines and is hereby awarded the Professional Development Designation

The SAF/FM Guidelines were developed to help people meet a certain level of professional development. As a result, we established three levels of education and experience that people could aspire to in their careers. The Command FMs felt it was only fitting that we recognize people meeting these goals with an appropriate certificate. The Air Force Comptroller takes this recognition one step further by applauding the following people for receiving their certificates during the last quarter.
